

WHEN ISRAEL GOES TO WAR, SUPPORTERS RALLY.

WHEN ISRAEL NEGOTIATES, WHY THE DEAFENING SILENCE?

A new ceasefire has been brokered between Israel and Hamas. Israel and Syria are quietly resuming diplomatic contacts. Israel is offering talks with Lebanon, and Israeli and Palestinian leaders are negotiating to establish two states living side by side in peace and security.

These efforts may or may not succeed. But they are designed to enhance Israel's security, the region's stability and to bring peace closer. And they deserve our support.

If Israel had gone to war this week, established pro-Israel organizations would have rallied to its side. There would have been ads, press releases, fundraising appeals and political speeches.

Let's have the courage to support Israel loudly and clearly when it pursues security through diplomacy.

AS IT SEEKS SECURITY AND PEACE.
